

Welcome to Lasky Clinic Surgical Center

Whether you are visiting our facility for a consultation, or the day of your surgery has arrived, we would like to provide you with some helpful information to ensure a comfortable and positive experience with our clinic.

PARKING

The journey begins with your arrival at Lasky Clinic. The Lasky Clinic is a free standing building in a residential area in Beverly Hills. Although our address is 201 South Lasky Drive, the main entrance is on Charleville. Unlike most medical buildings in Beverly Hills, parking is not a dreadful task; in fact it is abundant and easy to access. There is metered parking that accepts both quarters and credit cards on the streets surrounding the clinic and during the summer months you may even find ample two hour free parking located along Lasky Drive. Should you find yourself without the proper change, just ask Amanda or Vanessa at the front desk and they will be happy to assist you.

PET POLICY

We appreciate how important pets are to our patients. Even though we understand that you may have a loving pet that you like to travel with and that you are certain your animal will be well behaved and create no disturbances, the Lasky Clinic Surgical Center has a strict policy of no furry friends on the premises. Although other medical offices may invite your companion in, our facility serves primarily as a surgery center and must adhere to medical guidelines set by our accrediting association. Thank you for your cooperation and understanding.

CHECK IN

When you enter the building you will be greeted by one of our receptionists, Amanda or Vanessa. Please take a moment to check in and they will direct you to the appropriate office. You will quickly notice the uniqueness of Lasky Clinic and the communal environment we have created. Although there are several medical practices under just one roof, all of our doors are open and everyone is available to assist you while visiting with us.

If you are scheduled for surgery Amanda or Vanessa will show you back to your private pre and post-operative suite and our medical team will be ready to answer any last minute questions you may have. Family or friends may stay with you until you are taken into the operative suite, at which time we invite them to relax and stay in one of our several waiting areas. If they would like to venture out, we are within walking distance of downtown Beverly Hills. Again, please do not hesitate to ask anyone for assistance.
